American Finances.

We commend the following article on "American Finance" from the London Economist, to the attention of a class of bilious prophets, who affect to believe that our Government is little better than bankrupt. The Economist is probably the ablest financial and commercial journal in England. It bears honorable testimony to the effect of Democratic institutions in reconciling the citizens of the United States to taxation unprecedentedly heavy, and frankly stating its conviction that "to have imposed such taxes in England would have caused a revolution;" and at the same time it avows its unfaltering conviction of the immovable solvency of the financial condition of the United States, confidently asserting that there is no danger "in the magnitude of the American debt—that the country is quite able to cope with it, or even a greater if needful."

"Blucher is said to have observed as he rode through London, "Mein Gott! what a city to sack!" Just so an economist who reads the description of the Northern States of America, cannot help exclaiming, "What a country this is to tax!" A Chancellor of the Exchequer, used to the inelastic and mostly bounded resources of the Old World, cannot but envy those who can put imposts on a country where industrious poverty is unknown, where the power of the lowest classes to consume tax-paying goods is very great, where the number of persons able to bear and willing to bear direct taxation is immense, where a certain spring and confidence unknown in Europe, pervades the whole world.

Some weeks ago we referred to a report from a commission employed by the President to investigate the fiscal system of the United States. We had then only received the report itself, and not the appendices to which it constantly refers, and upon which many of its main conclusions are founded. These appendices we have now received, but we have still to look for the evidence taken on oath, from which report and appendices are deduced. We earnestly hope these will be printed, as any authentic evidence on a country so great as America, and in such new economical circumstances, is invaluable.

The most interesting fact to a political economist in this report is its confirmation of economical teaching. In the hurry of revolution, the Americans tried a series of experiments in taxation on a scale and with a vigor neither of which we are likely to see again. There is not in America a diffused knowledge of political economy or a real confidence in its teachings, and the financiers in Congress who finally arranged the great Tax Bill heaped impost upon impost, probably in the hope that some would work if some failed, and that a great deal of money would be got by one if not by another. So, indeed, the event has proved; a great revenue has been made, but much of it—all the novel and original part of it—has been made at a vast cost of inconvenience, wear and tear, and injustice. All the novelties of taxation have broken down, not that they did not get money, but that they got it unendurably. The commission recommend a return to the old form of taxation which we know in this country, and which economical science has shown to be the best, justest and easiest."

* * * * * * * *

"How far the patience of taxation has extended in America is evident from the very face of this report. In round numbers, there were raised in America, by internal revenue,

In 1862	£8,000,000
1864	23,000,000
1865	42,000,000

And these sums were derived from more than one hundred and fifty heads of taxation. We give the whole table below, because it is a fiscal curiosity. No other nation would, perhaps, have endured a system of excise duties so searching, so effective and so troublesome. To have imposed such taxes in England would have caused a revolution. We could not have borne duties on candles, chemical productions, cigars, clocks, confectionary, (to take only a few of the duties on things beginning with C,) and so on, through all the letters in the alphabet. We regard from old habit the Government as something apart from, different from, and superior to the nation; but the Americans regard the States as themselves in another form, and the Government their agent, their appointee, their administrator. They do not grudge Government their money, as we grudge it, for it is in their opinion only paid to their factor, who uses it for them. But even Americans can only bear these all-pervading excise duties in the agony of civil war; now that calm and consideration are come, they wish to be relieved from them, and the commission proposes that they shall be relieved. The income of the United States in the financial year ending 30th June, 1865, was £65,000,000, but in the quarter, ending 30th September, 1865—a very favorable quarter, no doubt—the revenue was £32,000,000. So that there is no doubt a revenue already vast is in course of collection, and a revenue which grows day by day. Into this system the Commission propose to introduce some changes.

* * * * *

The most cursory glance at this report proves what we have long urged in these pages—that, economically, there is no danger in the magnitude of the American debt—that the country is quite able to cope with it, or even with a greater if needful. The grave difficulties which a cool and distant observer cannot but feel as to that debt are only political. They do not relate to the wealth of the nation, but to the structure of the Government and the possible intentions of a part of the people. Every quiet observer must see that two grave dangers menace the security of American finance, and that as her economical resources are unparalleled, so her political possibilities are without a precedent or approximation in the Old World.

First, the South can never like to be taxed for this debt, which was incurred to subdue them, to humble them, to frustrate their best hopes, to destroy their best happiness, to annihilate what they were, to make them what they are. Now that danger is nugatory. The Southern members are excluded from Congress; the President is a man attached to the Union as to his own soul. But when Southern members again vote on finance in Congress, when a President, on whose election they have given a determining and casting vote, comes to rule the State, will the goodness of her finance be as good as it is now?

Second, What is a great risk in itself, and a far greater when coupled with the risk we have just stated—this budget indicates a great coming danger. Much of the customs duties used to be protective, perhaps are protective still, certainly will be protective, when the recommendations of the commissioners are carried out, and domestic producers are relieved from the all-pervading excise. But protection in a great union of various provinces is a disuniting agency. The West know that they are in two ways injured; they have to pay dearer for their English goods because of the tariff. They sell their corn to England at a disadvantage because of the tariff. Both these taxes on them are incurred upon them for another state of dissimilar manners, genius, and nature. The American protectionists insist that protection is a national good, though an economical evil, because it creates a vigorous, heterogeneous people doing everything for themselves, asking nothing from abroad. But picturesque variety is dearly purchased at the cost of mutual animosity. A great section of the Union will feel that the high tariff is a tyranny on them, and a favor to those of whom they are jealous. May not the West, to avoid the sort of taxation they hate, combine with a re-united South which hates all taxation, and a cotton taxation more than all?"

NEW CONSTITUTION OF SWEDEN.—So busy are we with the restoration of our Union to its former strength and equipoise, and so overburdened with governmental theories of our own, that most of us have neglected to notice a very remarkable evidence of progress in constitutional liberty which has lately been consummated in a European kingdom—the adoption of a new constitution in Sweden. This event has resounded already throughout Europe, and has created no little excitement amongst thinking people, especially in the neighboring countries, and more particularly in Germany, Prussia and Austria, and even in some parts of France. What is the strangest part of the story, the liberal constitution was pushed through by the energy of the King, who was not to be thwarted. The opposition came principally from a portion of the Chambers, and at one time, it was so great as to create fears of a serious outbreak at Stockholm. Accordingly, a considerable body of troops was sent to the capital; and thus it is hardly extravagant to say that liberal institutions were forced into Sweden by a monarch, at the points of his bayonets! In Prussia, which is now one of the most despotic of the European kingdoms, this coup d'etat for liberty has provoked, very naturally, the strongest hostility, and the downfall and destruction of Sweden are there prophesied, as the sure results of the movement in favor of civilization and free institutions. The King of Sweden, however—known chiefly to us, perhaps as a grandson of Bernadotte, is loved by his subjects everywhere, and with an affection equal to that of France for her Henry IV, and no less esteemed and venerated for his admirable qualities as a great ruler.—New York Times.

GENERAL CONNER.—This able and gallant officer was, upon his own application, mustered out of the volunteer service on the 30th ult. He was solicited to remain in the service by the War Office as well as by nearly all of our Western Senators and Representatives familiar with the Mormon question in Utah. He, however, declined, basing his application for muster out on the ground of more than three years continuous service in the army as Brigadier General. On the 19th of April last he was made Major General by Brevet, and on the day his order for muster out was made he was tendered a commission as Colonel of Cavalry in the Regular Army. It is not yet decided whether he will accept the commission. Last week he was in Washington in conference with General Grant on matters pertaining to this Territory. He will return here early in June, and we hope to see him wearing the eagles of the Regular service—while they would honor him we know that he would honor them. He is loved and respected by every true soldier who has ever served under him, and he is only hated and feared by those who hate the Government and the principles it represents.—Salt Lake Vedette, May 17th.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 6, 1866

The Election

So far as heard from the Union State ticket has from [illegible] to [illegible] majority. In the south Joseph[illegible] and Curry [illegible] not yet been heard from, but will [illegible] Jackson [illegible] Umatilla, Union, Baker and Grant [illegible] in the eastern part of the State are yet to be heard from, and will not be likely to give more than 200 majority either way. We think the Union State ticket is elected by a majority of at least 500. Of the State Senate we have 14 members out of 22 with a chance for further gains. At present it is impossible to tell which party has a majority in the House. It is very close and cannot be settled for several days.

A New Source of Alarm

Our neighbor of the Herald who could see nothing at all alarming in the progress of the late great Southern rebellion is grievously exercised through fear that the "Radicals" intend to seize the Government the moment they can see their way clear to success. "Truly the present situation is as alarming as the future prospect is appalling. The 'Radicals' seize the Government! The Dutch have surely taken Holland! Why, we were laboring under the impression that the "Radicals" had "seized the Government" some time ago, and that they still hold it. But the Herald editor, forgetting himself for a moment, and imagining that those are the good old days of Democratic rule, and that the "Abolitionists" are about to get possession of the Government to the exclusion of the Democracy, sees a gigantic rebellion looming up in the future. He thinks the indications are "unmistakable" that the "Radicals" intend to impeach the President, and thus deal the Democracy a final blow. So he deems it his duty to his party to unveil the plot, and show how the thing is to be accomplished. The plan of the "Radicals" is detailed at some length, and the great danger fully pointed out. "L F Foster, Senator from Connecticut, is now the acting Vice President of the United States, he has been superseded by General Terry, now in command of the military department of Virginia. The purpose of change is not to be mistaken or disguised, it is to place General Terry in the position of Mr Foster as Vice-President. When this is done, the attempt to impeach the President will immediately follow, and if that is successful, General Terry will be at the head of the civil and military forces of the Government, and the Radicals will have full sway to carry out their revolutionary schemes, peaceably if they can, and forcibly if necessary." This is a very dangerous plot, to be sure. The Herald editor is indebted entirely to his ignorance for his fears, and to his imagination for his facts. Gen Terry has not been elected Senator in the place of Mr. Foster, or of any one else. The new Connecticut Senator is not Major General Alfred H Terry, of the regular army, it is O. S Ferry, formerly Brigadier General of Volunteers. So the "purpose of the change, (the election of another Senator instead of Foster) which was not to be mistaken or disguised," is not quite so apparent after all. "The plot of Stevens and of other bold bad men," of the existence of which there is not a "reasonable doubt" in the mind of the Herald editor, is thus deprived of the principal character in it. The whole fabric of this imaginary plot thus crumbles to nothing.

We read that the famous Justice Dogberry positively insisted on being written down an ass. The Herald editor in telling this story which so completely refutes itself, seems to insist with equal emphasis on being classed with him.

Parson Jones to "Dear Mac"

The following interesting dispatch was received at this office yesterday:

ALBANY, June 5th, 12.30 P. M.

To "Dear Mac," Southern Confederacy established here.
PARSON JONES

This dispatch may be relied on as containing the very latest information about the celebrated "Jones Family." We don't doubt but Mosher, Caton, "Dear Mac" et id omne genus, will now emigrate at once to Linn county. Grover would go too, but he is gone on a trip up Salt River.

COMPLIMENTARY.—The organ of the Portland Democracy mourns deeply over the loss of their ticket in this county. At noon on Monday, according to the Herald, everything was lovely with the Democracy, but in the afternoon "men who had gone to the polls to vote the Democratic ticket, were changed by some mysterious influence to the other side. Money flowed like the copious showers of this humid atmosphere." Alas for Democratic integrity when their votes can be so easily and cheaply purchased! Does the Herald mean to insinuate that the sturdy, sterling Democracy of Portland, whom it has praised so much, have votes for sale? Rather, does'nt it pay as much? The Herald pays a very pretty compliment to the Democracy in making this statement.

Washington Territory Election.

Cowlitz County has doubtless gone Union by a small majority. Monticello precinct Union majority is from five to ten. Benjamin Huntington, for joint representative with Wahkiakum county is doubtless elected. Full returns not received.

Idaho News.

We obtain the following items from the Idaho World of May 26th:

A miner by the name of Robert Bowen was killed on the 23d inst. near Yreka Hill, by the sudden caving of a bank, while working in the claim of Mr Long. He was crushed under a stump, and buried fifteen feet deep. The hydraulics were at once turned upon the bank and the body recovered. Deceased is said to have been a native of Iowa, where he has a family living.

A man by the name of Rogers was drowned in Moore's creek, near Last Chance Bar, last Saturday night. He was crossing a plank, slipped off, and fell into the current, which at that point is strong. The body has not been found. It was probably washed down with the muddy tide and buried in the sand. Some effort has been made to recover the body, but all unavailing.

SOUTH BOISE

A letter from Rocky Bar to the World says:

During the Winter and Spring the Waddingham, Victor, Walker and New York & Idaho Companies have had their working capital increased in consequence of arrangements made at the East. The indefatigable Doc. Farnham has organized a new company in New York, with a large capital, and has again been appointed Superintendent of his old company. Mr. Francis, President of the Victor Company, and Red Warrior, with his son, arrived from New York, a few days since, and will soon have their mill going. Capt. E O Nelson Supt., and Sam Rasey [illegible] have began to throw out their line of pickets and deploy skirmishers along the Burnt Pilot, Victor and Wide West lodges which are the richest of the Red Warrior. [illegible] company make steady progress in their tunnel and are expecting daily to strike one of their lodes. The Walker company under the Superintendence of Mr. McNally are getting out ore from the Wide West. I am told by the Secretary that the Waddingham Company does not owe a dollar and that since last January has paid out more than $50,000. Mr. Waddingham has organized two more companies with capitals of $[illegible] each, and have cash paid in to the amount of $[illegible]. With these fair prospects ahead, Alturas will probably endeavor, during the Summer, to solve the question whether some things cannot be done as well as others.

State Items

The Mountaineer of Monday says that the Canyon City stage arrived at the Dalles on Saturday evening. The long delay was caused by high water on the Middle Fork of John Day. Mr. Wheeler reports the roads in bad condition from [illegible] rains. The Indians have entirely disappeared from the road. It is supposed that they have gone to [illegible] their summer supply of roots, or perhaps they have changed their base to another and more profitable location. We hope they will find their present abode so inviting as not to return to the road.

The [illegible] Company says the Mountaineer, are making [illegible] nearly opposite the residence of Mr. [illegible]. This will be found convenient at the present stage of the water when the locomotive and cars are kept at that end of town.

The Springfield Republican usually the most "conservative" paper in Massachusetts except the Boston Courier, now says of the President:

"There are two things which, thank God, are impossible and no less make the moral sense of the loyal North tolerate this man any longer. Doubtless he is to be President three years more, but unless he is reduced to submission by three-crowning votes and vote of the people, speaking through Congress, he is [illegible] Copperhead President. This is [illegible] right, but not a millionth part as bad as to [illegible] to carry on the government by seeking to approve of his course.

ELECTION RETURNS

BENTON COUNTY

A dispatch from Corvallis dated June 5th, 8.15 P. M. says that Benton county gives 30 Union majority on the State ticket and that the whole Union county ticket is elected.

POLK COUNTY.

In Polk county Mallory has 8 majority, Kelly 5, May 9, Cooke 8, McPherson 16. Stouffer the Union candidate for the Legislature has one majority. [illegible] the Union candidate for Judge [illegible] Treasurer [illegible]. All the rest of the Copperhead ticket is elected.

JACKSON COUNTY

A dispatch from Jacksonville dated yesterday, (June [illegible]) says that Jackson county gives 80 Democratic majority, with Fort Klamath to hear from with 100 Union votes, which makes it very close."

Another dispatch says: "The following are the Democratic majorities on State and county ticket, as far as heard from not including the vote of Fort Klamath, Fay, 118, Kelly, 135, Lane 136; O'Meara 120 [illegible]. The county ticket has an average Democratic majority of 132."

WASHINGTON COUNTY

Fuller returns give the Union ticket 120 to 125 majority. Wapato precinct gives a Union majority of 5, Dairy Creek, 5, Centerville, 6, Hillsboro, 42, Forest Grove, 29, and Butte 40. Beaver Dam precinct gives 14 Copperhead majority.

MARION COUNTY.

A dispatch from Hon. S. E May, dated Salem June 5th, 6.40 P. M., says that Marion gives 600 Union majority. A dispatch from Salem, dated twelve o'clock yesterday says that the Union majority in Marion county is 585.

A late dispatch says the returns are all in. Marion gives Mallory 593 majority.

YAMHILL COUNTY.

A gentleman who arrived from McMinnville late last evening reports that Yamhill county elects the whole Union ticket by 20 majority.

WASCO COUNTY.

A letter from the Dalles, says the Democrats have an average majority of thirty five on their county ticket in town, and the country precincts will probably increase it ten or fifteen more. On account of Capt. Lafollett's company voting in town, the State ticket is nearly a tie. I think we are beat on it in this county from twenty to twenty five.

COLUMBIA COUNTY.

We have returns from Rainier which give three Union majority on the State ticket. Olney, for Representative, has four majority in the precinct.

CLATSOP COUNTY

From the Astoria Gazette, (extra) we learn that in the precinct of Astoria and Clatsop, Mallory has 56 majority, Woods 56, May 57, Cooke 58, McPherson 58 and Mulkey 57. For Joint Representative, Olney has 60 majority in the two precincts. The remainder of the county ticket has a like majority. At West's Mills there will be a Union majority of about 10, making 66 to 70 Union majority in this county. The Gazette expects from five to ten Union majority in Tillamook.

New Quartz Discoveries

The following is a letter to the Walla Walla Statesman, written from Jackson's Ranch, Spring Valley, 130 miles from Walla Walla:

Some four or five Californians en route for Big Bend having [illegible] to rest our animals a day or two in this beautiful valley in which Mr. Jackson is the only resident [illegible] would be positive prospect for gold and silver quartz. [illegible] found no less than four distinct [illegible] traced for some distance. We send a few specimens [illegible] Mr. Jackson will send [illegible] by express. Mr. Jackson will send [illegible] quantity by wagon in a few days for assay. I think the quartz ledges show distinct traces of both gold and silver and upon comparison with that of California and Nevada I consider it very rich in its mineral qualities.

We have formed a company and have taken up four ledges or lodes, of 3,000 feet each, and propose after the quartz has been assayed and thoroughly tested, to commence work on them.

The specimens are only the croppings as we did not have implements for deeper developments.

You need not be surprised if this section of your county should turn out quartz that will equal if it does not excel, in richness that of Idaho and Nevada.

Fenians Invade Canada

CHICAGO, June 1.—The Fenians invaded Canada last night crossing Niagara river four miles below Buffalo about 1,500 strong and were to-day entrenching themselves to resist attack. They are commanded by [illegible] H B Stagg and Col. O'Neil, the latter from Nashville [illegible]. The troops comprise volunteers from the West and [illegible] and the crossing was effected by [illegible] canal boats. Great excitement prevails in Buffalo and in Canada West and reports [illegible]. [illegible] Fenians [illegible] Fort Erie [illegible] Canada [illegible] New York [illegible] This [illegible] of the Fenians [illegible] under Stephens [illegible] they reject.

Dispatches from Toronto represent active military preparations to punish the invaders. The Canadian Government has taken possession of the railroads and telegraph and having a large force of well organized militia at command besides regular troops will make short work of this invasion. The U. S. troops East and West are being sent to the border to detain the Fenians and it is hoped to prevent a further breach of neutrality.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—At about five minutes past six o'clock this morning our citizens were disturbed from their slumbers by two severe earthquake shocks, which together lasted about fifty seconds. The second shock was more severe than the first, and done some little damage in the way of cracking plastering. It was decidedly the heaviest shake since the big October shock.

Otto I. Reade, for several years book keeper and cashier of the Pacific Glass Works, was arrested yesterday on a charge of grand larceny. It appearing that he is a defaulter to his employers to a large amount, estimated at from $4,000 to $5,000.

The first jury trial of the Chinese women, who are defended by P. M. Pixley, was had in the Police Court yesterday afternoon. The trial commenced at two p. m. and before six p. m. the jury returned a verdict of guilty after an hour's absence. Judge Rix [illegible] sentence this morning stated that [illegible] that from the bill which [illegible] only sentence her to thirty days' [illegible] in the county jail. As the women did not have [illegible] single witness [illegible] difficult for many to [illegible] the action of Judge Rix was generally regarded as an abandonment of his original proposition to punish criminals according to the trouble they had given the court, instead of imposing a penalty for the crime of which they were guilty.

The steamboat Josie McNear had been sold for about $50,000 delivered at Puget Sound, in which trade she will hereafter be employed. The Josie McNear is comparatively a new boat and has been run in the Petaluma trade for the past few months.

The latest gold quotations from New York is 140 on the 1st ult. Legal Tenders remain [illegible] The Brokers [illegible] 74¼@76¼. The stock market shows some signs of recuperation, though still irregular. Of the foreign houses who had done considerable advances of the better class of mining stocks have it is said, lately been calling in their money for remittance abroad, thereby necessitating forced sales of the securities thus hypothecated. This undoubtedly has been a prominent cause of the late decision. With this cause measurably removed, however, there are thought to be good grounds for an early reaction, particularly as the reports from the Nevada mines are in the main favorable.

From the morning board yesterday, Savage advanced $15, Chollar Potosi $6; Overman $1, selling at $34 with the assessment of $10 delinquent, and Bullion $2 50. Imperial fell $10. Ophir and Yellow Jacket each $2 50, and Confidence $2.

Flour—There is a brisk demand for export and the market presents a little more tone. The sales include 450 qr sks extra superfine Standard Oregon, at $5 20 @ 200 lbs; 4,000 sks San Joaquin superfine 3,000 qr sks Suisun 4,000 qr sks Napa and 750 bbls Napa extra on private terms. We quote superfine at $[illegible] extra, at $[illegible]

Wheat—The market is quite active partly on Chinese account. Sales include 4,000 sks good milling in two lots at $1 75 @ 1 77½ 100 lbs.

Oats—Sales include 100 sks at $1 62½ and 150 sks at $1 75 @ 100 lbs.

Potatoes—New Mission are a little firmer and quotable at $1@1 25 @ 100 lbs.

Sailed—June 4th, bark W. B. Scaranton, Sydney. June 5th, steamer Del Norte, Eureka, bark Torrent, Tookalet.

The Upper Columbia

Judge Wyche furnishes the following to the Walla Walla Statesman:

COLVILLE VALLEY

Is settling up, though not very rapidly, and is one of the most inviting valleys to the eye to be seen on the coast. It is probably about fifty miles in length and from two to three miles in width, and on the rich lands now unoccupied in the valley and along Mud Lake and along on different points on the Columbia river there are now the finest opportunities for settlements and happy and prosperous homes of any part of this upper coast. From one to three hundred families may find as rich land as the sun shines on, with no timber to be cleared and with splendid timber just at hand, and the finest streams and needing only the touch of the husbandman's hand to yield abundant harvests. What the valley now need more than anything else, and what it must have before very much real advancement will be made is a goodly number of white families with white wives and children and the schools and churches and civilized [illegible] that would accompany such a class of emigrants, for whatever anybody may say against woman it is still the fact that she is the very cream of the earth, and that no country without her humanizing influence is good enough for a man to scratch in much less for man to inhabit. There is but one church in the valley—a Catholic church about a mile from town. We heard the priest highly spoken of by all classes. A number of citizens expressed a wish for a Protestant minister and church, and the field ought to be occupied by some of our religious denominations, and we believe a minister would receive a generous support there.

PINCKNEY CITY

This place is generally called Colville, and is adjoining the Reservation. It has a population of some two hundred and is improving. Ferguson & Co., Abrams & Co., and Smith & Young are the principal houses. Ferguson & Co. perhaps sell as many goods as all the other firms. They are enterprising men and are branching off to all the trading points opening up there. Both the other firms are extending their business and growing in favor. Mr. Shaw is fitting up a nice saloon with billiard tables and all kinds of liquors, and in fact everything suitable for leading a fellow to the devil and if any one has a fancy for traveling in that direction, Shaw is just as good company as he will find. Dr. Toby is building a fine hotel, which is much needed, and there are other improvements being made. The merchants all have large stocks on hand, but their sales this year have not been so large as they anticipated.

THE LITTLE DALLES AND STEAMER "49."

We made a visit to the "Little Dalles," a new town established on the Columbia, some 25 or 30 miles from Colville. This is the shipping point for the Big Bend mines and there is an excellent road both for wagons and pack trains from Colville to that place. The location is handsome and the falls of the river extend from half a mile to a mile, and to look at the river at its present stage one would think it would be quite impossible for a steamer to ascend it at this point, though the "49" did pass over these rapids at a lower stage of water. The Little Dalles however, may be considered the shipping point for the Big Bend mines and if these mines meet expectations it will be a place of importance in the upper country. There are three stores there now, owned by Montgomery & Co., Hellmer & Co., and Ferguson & Co., and the "Hotel de Cash," Smith proprietor, what it lacks in style is fully compensated for in ham and eggs and "chicken fixings" generally. The steamer "49" was there and left on her fourth trip on the 22d of May for Big Bend mines, with about thirty passengers and a light freight. We had an interesting talk with Capt. White, the Pioneer Captain on the upper Columbia river. It is about 270 miles from the Little Dalles by steamer to Laporte or Death Rapids, the upper point of navigation, and which is only some fifteen miles from French Creek, in the Big Bend mines. Passengers are carried for $25, and freight at 10 cents per pound and each passenger is allowed fifty pounds of baggage without charge. From Little Dalles to Laporte you pass Fort Shepard, the mouth of Kootenai river, and through two lakes called the Arrow Lakes, the Upper and Lower which are from two to three miles in width and supposed to be deep, though the Captain said he had never sounded them, and with no perceptible current in them, and one of these lakes is about 80 miles in length and the other 45. The portion of the river between the lakes, some 14 miles, has the appearance of having one day been a lake. Capt. White says his steamer has done very well, and he has every confidence in the success of his enterprise. An effort is being made to establish a competing route by Victoria and Yale and up the Shuswap Lake some 130 miles, thence about fifty miles over the Selkirk range of mountains to La Porte. We talked with a number of persons who had passed over this route and while different opinions were expressed [illegible] that the [illegible] could be reached [illegible] earlier by our route and that the passage over fifty miles over the Selkirk mountains is both difficult and expensive. Time will settle which is the better route, and the miners will [illegible] that way and it would seem as if the Columbia river will be that route.

INDIAN WAR.—Messrs Beard & Miller, teamsters from Chico with freight for Owyhee and Idaho City lost over 400 head of cattle near Camp Lyon by the depredations of the Indians. They followed the Indians into the mountains where they found the remains of most of the stolen cattle. They saved only 70 head out of 400.

THE GOLD CROP.—On inquiry of leading business men we are informed that the gold crop for the current year is fully one third greater than that of 1865. Buyers of the old districts, John Day, &c., [illegible] all of them show a large increase. In 1863, as near as we are able to learn, [illegible] was $8,000,000. In 1864 the yield was considerably more than $1[illegible],000,000. In 1865, according to statistics published, it amounted to about $10,000,000. The estimates for 1866, based upon the present rate of product, with the introduction and successful working of mills and improved facilities in mining, give us a total of $30,000,000, and we have every reason to believe that another year will find this calculation more than doubled. Thus allowing the estimates to be correct, and we may say that is our opinion they are rather under than over, we shall have produced in five years $120,000,000, as follows:

1863	$8,000,000
1864	1[illegible],000,000
1865	10,000,000
1866	[illegible]
1867	[illegible]
	120,000,000

Thus far the "Northern mines" have labored under great disadvantages with labor, supplies, and transportation at exorbitant rates, and everything to learn. Now the more immediate and pressing wants of the mining population are better provided for. Transportation is reasonably supplied, and speedy communication established, in a just sense contributing largely to the development of the various regions. It is no longer a trip of months to reach a supply point, and the miner is not now obliged to quit his claim and leave the diggings for provisions. The gold and silver ledges and the placer mines have demonstrated facts which cannot be controverted with regard to the wealth of the country, and all kinds of [illegible] may now be deemed in a settled condition. The Idaho Statesman, speaking in reference to the present and future prospects of Idaho, says it is a positive fact that there are [illegible] for want of employment in that section, and the same will apply to all sections as far as we are informed. Wages are the same now as two years ago. The cost of living is less, and the area of ground and the number of claims being worked is greater than ever before. The country needs a larger population, made up of that class of men who have a disposition and energy to work, and the capital to open farms, mines, &c., and start manufactures. In due time we shall have these, but present prospects are by no means discouraging.

THE CONCERT LAST EVENING.—The concert given last evening at Oro Fino Hall, by the "Turner Gesang Section," as a complimentary testimonial to Prof. Grob, their leader, was well patronized. The 14th Infantry Band had been announced to take a part in the performance of the evening, but they failed to arrive, and their place was well supplied by our own home Band—the Turners—under the leadership of Prof. Everat. The opening overture by the Band showed the remarkable improvement they have made in the past few months, and convinced the audience at once that we had something to boast of in that line, resident among us. The concert was in every way a success, and we hope to hear [illegible].

MILL FOR BLACKFOOT.—The frame-work for a flouring mill in the Bitter Root Valley, near Frenchtown, is now up and ready for the machinery, which parties are expecting to procure for it at this city soon. The mill is but forty miles from the newly discovered mines of Elk Creek, will be in the center of a fine agricultural district, and with a dense mining population on all sides cannot prove other than a success.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. Albert Weaver, clerk at E. J. North[rup] & Co.'s, met with an accident at the Court House yesterday, which resulted in breaking one of his lower limbs, badly shattering the bone, below the knee. He was standing near where a pistol accidentally fell from the hand of another, discharging as it struck the floor, the ball entering the left leg above the ankle.

HIGH WATER.—The Mountaineer of Monday evening says the rise in the Columbia at that place was about five inches during the previous twenty-four hours. The railroad bridge, which is on a grade with Main street has raised about six inches. The whole length of the bridge is covered with rocks, which will probably save it. At midnight the rise for twenty-four hours, at noon yesterday, was three inches. Twenty inches will be necessary to bring the water up to Front street in this city.

A NEW IDEA.—Mr. J. Loryea, at his furniture store, proposes to have auction sales once a week, and on the intervening days will allow every one to purchase duplicates at the same rates at which the goods were knocked off at auction. Having an extensive stock, people will find it advantageous to procure what they need at reduced rates.

[illegible].—The flag presentation and Sociable by the Fenian Guards, will take place at Oro Fino Hall this evening. The programme is arranged for a company parade and the flag presentation; next a national air will be performed by the band, after which dancing will commence.

[illegible].—McCormick, with his usual liberality, has placed us under obligations for a large file of the very latest Eastern papers, including Godey and Harper for June.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—The Templars turned out in large numbers last evening to attend the lecture at the M. E. Church, by Rev. Mr. McDougal, which was an able effort in support of the principles of temperance.

TRIAL.—The steamer Commodore Perry yesterday proved very [illegible] on her trial trip, and to-day will take her place in the line of business for which she was designed.

FOUND.—Jas. Buchanan, of Glasgow, Scotland, will find a pocket book and valuable papers at this office, which he can have upon paying for this notice.

SALUTE.—The Portland Light Artillery wound up the campaign in good shape last night, firing repeated volleys in rejoicing, from the public plaza.

[illegible].—The advertisement of Miss D. Harvey, fashionable dress maker, will be found in another column.

[illegible].—The Portland Liedertafel will give another social party at their rooms this evening.

I. O. O. F.—Members of Samaritan Lodge, No. 2, and all brethren in good standing, are requested to be present at the regular meeting this (Wednesday) evening, as [illegible] of importance will be transacted.
By order of the N. G.

Attention, Fenian Guards.—You will assemble at your Armory this (Wednesday) evening at 7 o'clock. By order of E. CAHALIN, 1st Lt.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—These Bitters are universally acknowledged to be a sure preventive and cure for Fever and Ague, Flatulence, Heaviness of the Stomach, or any other like affection. Their effect upon the system is most miraculous; they give a healthy tone to the system, relieve all morbid matter, and in fact thoroughly cleanse the system of all impurities. In no case has it been known to fail, but on the contrary, new virtues have been found in its use. To those afflicted with any of the above ills of the body, the "Bitters" are offered as a speedy and certain cure. Try them and form your own opinion.—Sold by Druggists and dealers everywhere. my20 HODGE, CALEF, & Co., 97, Front St.

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supersede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities, CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers and every day he sees increasing the number of those who by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after trial, but it is able to the favorable opinion of all consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

My "Good-for-Nothing"

"What are you good for, my brave little man?
Answer that question for me if you can—
You with your fingers as white as a nun
You with your ringlets as bright as the sun
All the day long with your busy contriving
[illegible]
[illegible]
What you are good for—now ponder it well"

Over the [illegible] little feet
[illegible] pattering [illegible] on my seat,
[illegible] full of frolic and glee
[illegible]
[illegible] from my face
[illegible] loving embrace
[illegible] answer is this
[illegible] good for to kiss you"

The Wild Duck Shooter.

The charity of the rich is much to be commended but how beautiful is the charity of the poor! Call to mind the coldest day you ever experienced Think of the bitter wind and driving snow think how you shook and shivered—how the sharp white particles were driven up against your face, how, within doors, the carpets were lifted like billows along the floors, the wind howled and moaned in the chimneys, windows rattled doors creaked, and every now and then heavy lumps of snow came thundering down with a dull weight from the roof.

Now hear my story

In one of the broad open plains of Lincolnshire there is a lonely, reedy sheet of water, a favorite resort of wild ducks. At its northern extremity stand two mud cottages, old, and out of repair

One bitter, bitter night, when the snow lay three feet deep on the ground, and a cutting east wind was driving it about, and whistling in the dry frozen reeds by the water's edge, and swinging the bare willow trees till their branches swept the ice, an old woman sat spinning in one of these cottages before a moderately cheerful fire Her kettle was singing on the coals, she had a reed candle, or home-made rush light on her table, but the full moon shone in, and was the brighter of the two These two cottages were far from any road, or any other habitation, the old woman was, therefore, surprised, as she sat drawing out her thread, and crooning an old north country song, to hear a sudden knock at the door

It was loud and impatient, not like the knock of her neighbors in the other cottage; but the door was bolted, and the old woman rose, and shuffling to the window, looked out, and saw a shivering figure, apparently that of a youth

"Trampers!" said the old woman sententiously, "tramping folk be not wanted here"; so saying she went back to the fire without deigning to answer the door.

The youth, upon this, tried the door, and called to her to beg admittance. She heard him rap the snow from his shoes against her lintel, and again knocked as if he thought her dead and he could surely gain admittance if he could only make her hear

The old woman, surprised at his audacity, went to the casement, and, with all pride of possession opened it and inquired his business.

"Good woman, I only want a seat at your warm fire"

"Nay," said the old woman, giving effect to her words by her uncouth dialogue, "thou'lt get no shelter here, I've nought to give to beggars—a dirty wet critter," she continued, wrathfully slamming to the window, "it's a wonder where he found any water, too, seeing it freezes so hard, a body can get none for the kettle, save what's broken up with the hatchet."

On this coarse rebuff, the beggar turned hastily away.

And at this point in his narrative, the person who told it to me stopped and said, "Do you think the old woman was very much to blame?"

"She might have acted more kindly, but why do you ask?"

"Because," said he, "I have heard her character so much reflected upon by some who would have thought nothing of it, if it had not been for the consequences"

"She might have turned him away less roughly," I observed.

"That is true, but in any case, I think though we might give them food or money, we should hardly invite beggars in to sit by the fire."

"Certainly not; and this woman could not tell that the beggar was honest," I answered.

"No," said he, "but I must go on with my narrative. "The stranger turned very hastily from her door, and waded through the deep snow towards the other cottage. The bitter wind helped to drive him towards it. It looked no less poor than the first, and, when he had tried the door, knocked twice without attracting attention, his heart sank within him. His hand was so numbed with cold that he had made scarcely any noise, he tried again."

A rush candle was burning within, and a matronly looking woman sat before the fire. She held an infant in her arms, and had dropped asleep; but his third knock aroused her, and wrapping her apron around her child, she opened the door a very little way, and demanded what he wanted.

"Good woman," the youth began, "I have had the misfortune to fall in the water this bitter cold night, and I am so numbed I can scarcely walk"

The woman gave him a sudden, earnest look, and then sighed.

"Come in," she said; "thou art so nigh the size of my Jem, I thought at first it was him come home from sea."

The youth stepped across the threshold, trembling with cold and wet; and no wonder, for his clothes were completely encased in wet and mud, and the water dripped from them with every step he took on the sanded floor.

"Thou art in a sorry plight," said the woman, "and it be two miles to the nearest house; come and kneel down afore the fire, thy teeth chatter so pitifully, I can scarce bear to hear them."

She looked at him more attentively, and saw that he was a mere boy, not more than sixteen years of age. Her motherly heart was touched for him. "Art hungry?" she asked, turning to the table, "thou art wet to the skin. What hast been doing?"

"Shooting wild ducks," said the boy.

"Oh!" said his hostess, "thou art one of the keepers' boys, then, I reckon?"

He followed the direction of her eyes, and saw two portions of bread set upon the table, with a small piece of bacon on each.

"My master be very late," she observed, for charity did not make her use elegant language, and by her master she meant her husband, "but thou art welcome to my bit and sup, for I was waiting for him; maybe it will put a little warmth in thee to eat and drink; so saying, she took up a mug of beer from the hearth, and pushed it towards him, with her share of the supper.

"Thank you," said the boy, "but I am so wet I am making quite a pool before your fire with the drippings from my clothes"

"Ay, thou art wet, indeed," said the woman, and, rising again, she went to an old box in which she began to search, and presently came to the fire with a perfectly clean check shirt in her hand, and a tolerably good suit of clothes.

"There," said she, showing them with no small pride, "these be my master's Sunday clothes, and if you will be careful of them, I'll let thee wear them till thine be dry" She then explained that she was going to put her "bairn" to bed, and proceeded up a ladder into the room above, leaving the boy to array himself in those respectable and desirable garments.

When she came down her guest had dressed himself in the laborer's clothes; he had had time to warm himself, and he was eating and drinking with hungry relish He had thrown his muddy clothes in a heap upon the floor, and, as she proceeded to lift them up, she said, "Ah! lad, lad, I doubt thy head has been under water, thy poor mother would have been sorely frightened if she had seen thee awhile ago."

"Yes," said the boy; and, in imagination, the cottage dame saw this sad mother, a careworn, hard-working creature like herself, while the youthful guest saw, in imagination, a beautiful and courtly lady, and both saw the same love, the same anxiety, the same terror at sight of a lonely boy struggling in the moonlight through breaking ice, with no one to help him, catching at the frozen reeds, and then creeping up, shivering and benumbed, to a cottage door. But even as she stooped the woman forgot her imagination for she had taken a waistcoat into her hands, such as had never passed between them before a gold pencil case dropped from the pocket, and on the floor, among a heap of mud that covered the outer garments, lay a white shirt sleeve, so white, indeed, and fine that she thought it could hardly be worn but by a squire!

She glanced from the clothes to the owner He had thrown his cap and his fair, curly hair and broad forehead, convinced her that he was of gentle birth, but while she hesitated to sit down he sat a chair for her, and said, with boyish frankness, "I say, what a lonely place this is if you had not let me in, the water would have all frozen on me before I reached home. Catch me duck shooting again by myself!

"It's very old sport that, sir," said the woman

The young gentleman assented most readily, and asked if he might stir the fire

"And welcome sir," said the woman She felt a curiosity to know who he was, and he partly satisfied her by remarking that he was staying at Deen Hall, a house about five miles off, adding that, in the morning, he had broken a hole in the ice very near the decoy, but it had iced over so fast, that in the dusk he had missed it and fallen in, for it would not bear him He had made some land marks and taken every proper precaution, but he supposed the sport had excited him so much that, in the moon light he had passed them by

He then told her of his attempt to get shelter in the other cottage

"Sir," said the woman, "if you had said you were a gentleman—"

The boy laughed "I don't think I know it my good woman," he replied "my senses were so benumbed, for I was a mortal struggling at the water's edge among the broken ice, and then I believe I was nearly an hour creeping up to your cottage door I remember it all rather indistinctly, but as soon as I had felt the fire and drank the warm beer, I was a different creature"

While they still talked the husband came in, and while he was eating his supper they agreed that he should walk to Deen Hall, and let its inmates know of the gentleman's safety and when he was gone they made up the fire with all the coal that remained to that poor household, and the woman crept up to bed, and left her guest to lie down and rest before it

In the gray of dawn the laborer returned, with a servant leading a horse, and bringing a fresh suit of clothes

The young gentleman took his leave with many thanks, slipping three half crowns into the woman's hand, probably all the money he had about him And I must not forget to mention that he kissed the baby, for when she tells the story, the mother always adverts to that circumstance with pride, adding, that her child being as "clean as wax, was quite fit to be kissed by anybody!"

"Missis," said her husband as they stood in the doorway, looking after their guest, "who dost think that be?"

"I don't know," answered the Missis.

"Then I'll just tell thee, that be young Lord W——, so thou must be a proud woman, thou sits and talks with lords, and asks them in to supper—ha, ha!" So saying, her master shouldered his spade and went his way, leaving her clinking the three half crowns in her hand, and considering what she should do with them Her neighbor from the other cottage presently stepped in, and when she heard the tale and saw the money, her heart was ready to break with envy and jealousy "Oh! to think that good luck should have come to her door, and she should have been so foolish as to turn it away Seven shillings and sixpence for a morsel of food and a night's shelter, why, it was nearly a week's wages!"

So there, as they both supposed, the matter ended, and the next week the frost was sharper than ever Sheep were frozen in the fenny fields, and poultry on their perches, but the good woman had walked to the nearest town and bought a blanket It was a welcome addition to their bed covering, and it was many a long year since they had been so comfortable.

But it chanced one day at noon, that, looking out at her casement, she spied three young gentlemen skating on the ice towards her cottage They sprung on to the bank, took off their skates, and made for her door. The young nobleman informed her that he had had such a severe cold he could not come to see her before "He spoke as free and pleasantly," she observed, in telling the story, "as if I had been a lady, and no less! and then he brought a parcel out of his pocket, 'and I've been over to B——,' he says, and bought you a book for a keepsake, and I hope you will accept it' And then they all talked as pretty as could be for a matter of ten minutes, and went away So I waited till my master came home, and we opened the parcel, and there was a fine Bible inside, all over gold and morocco, and my name and his name written inside, and bless him! a ten pound note doubled down over the names. I'm sure, when I thought him a poor forlorn creature,' he was kindly welcome So my master laid out part of the money in tools, and we rented a garden, and he goes over on market days to sell what we grow, so now, thank God, we want for nothing"

This is how she generally concludes the little history, never failing to add that the young lord kissed her baby.

"But," said my friend, "I have not told you what I thought the best part of the anecdote When this poor christian woman was asked what had induced her to take in a perfect stranger, and trust him with the best clothing her home afforded, she answered simply, 'well I saw him shivering and shaking,' I thought 'thou shalt come in here for the sake of him that had not where to lay His head.'"

The old woman in the other cottage may open her door every night of her future life to some forlorn beggar, but it is all but certain that she will never open it to a nobleman in disguise!

Let us do good, not to receive more good in return, but as an evidence of gratitude for what has been already bestowed. In a few words, let it be "all for love, and nothing for reward" Jean Ingelow

Yaquina Bay.—We make the following extracts from a letter lately written by Mr. David Newsom to the Advocate

"The travel is greatly increasing these times to the bay Explorations are being made of the bay and up Elk river, and new localities for farming and stock raising are found. If ever I have written anything whereby people could draw the inference that this is a beautiful, level and smooth country; and that cities and fine farms, and splendid houses were well furnished, and all things ready to hand, here, I take it all back. Under the very unfavorable circumstances here, since the bay was thrown open for settlement, it is a great wonder that there is as much done here as is

So bad have been the roads, and so rainy the weather, for some months past, that but small crops are put in; and many will see hard times before this country shall "blossom as the rose." Taking all things into consideration, it is a district of country worth seeing, whether people settle here not. I shall be glad if every one who has ever read of my letters from here, will come and see for themselves. * * * There is a new route just discovered, which we intend to open shortly, for three miles of road east of our town, whereby all travel can arrive down Yaquina bottom—north side—on level, dry ground, and never cross the river till it arrives near our public square. * * There is much more native grass on and off the bay, than we at first supposed. I repeat that I never before saw as rich and fertile land, and as beautiful a sheet of water as this bay and its surroundings. All things here are good enough for me. Let others judge for themselves.

Captured Rebel Property.

Where captured by a belligerent of an enemy's vessel and freight has been made by legitimate warfare, both the custom and law among maritime nations have, almost from time immemorial, been to distribute among the captors one half of the prize. Where capture by a belligerent, after victory, of an enemy's treasure, of whatever character, has been made by land forces, custom has invariably accorded to the victor his right to dispose of such treasures as his own ideas of justice, or humanity, or discretion may influence him He may not only seize bullion, but precedents are sufficiently numerous to justify (if we may use the term) him spoliating public libraries, or art galleries, or museums. Nay, if precedent merely be a justification, he may, against the opinion of full one-half the civilized portion of the globe, give up to his soldiers a captured city to sack, and yet if he be generally fortunate in his military career, not suffer seriously in history in consequence Congress, to guard against obloquy that might possibly attach to the country by reason of indiscriminate personal appropriation of such seizures, passed, on the 13th of July, 1861, an Act to regulate the disposition of captured contraband and confiscated property, and on the 6th of August of the same year passed an Act supplemental thereto for the further enforcement of its provisions The law, in brief, provided that all property of citizens in the insurrectionary States, whether found in such States, or in the loyal States, or in transitu, whether by land or water and all vessels found at sea belonging either in whole or in part to such citizens, and all property wherever situated that may in any way have been used or disposed of in aid of the rebellion, should, if captured, be forfeited and sold, and the proceeds thereof paid into the United States Treasury On the 18th of August, 1861, President Lincoln issued a proclamation enjoining upon all military and naval officers their duty to be diligent in the capture of such property for the benefit of the United States. Property to an enormous value was, under the law subsequently seized, both by the land and naval forces, but very little of the proceeds of it was ever handed in to the Treasury Department. This was particularly the case on land, where cotton, sugar and tobacco were abundant. Not so much fault has been found with the naval service, that brought its captures into port for condemnation and sale, but even the Navy finds itself in Court contending against the Treasury Department for the disposition of the funds.

It seems that our gallant seamen captured on the high seas property that realized at public sale, in port, upwards of $20,000,000 Of this amount they have already received their moiety The other $10,000,000 and upwards they insist upon having apportioned to the Naval Pension Fund This the Treasury Department resists holding that the interest that has thus far accrued on the amount is in itself more than double the sum required for the fund. The case is in the Supreme Court, but will not probably come up for hearing and determination before December

To prevent the further distribution or paying out of moneys, in the Department, realized from the sale of confiscated contraband property, Congress has passed a resolution (introduced by Thaddeus Stevens) requesting the Secretary of the Treasury to withhold from all applicants the proceeds of such captured articles, until such times as the question at issue may finally be settled by the Supreme Court, and further requesting the Secretary of the Treasury to take all such means as in his judgment may be necessary to have the claims of the United States fully heard in the adjudication of the cause.

The decision of the court in this case will be looked forward to with much interest The question involved is not merely whether $10,000,000 proceeds of captured vessels and freight shall go to the Naval Fund—but also whether fortunate parties in the land service, who as officers of the Government obtained possession of vast quantities of cotton, sugar etc, and made no account to government therefor, can be held liable for their short comings to the value of the articles seized Whether all property, of whatever nature, provided it was contraband of war that was captured from the insurgents by men holding commissions from the United States Government, should not have been legally condemned and sold, and the proceeds thereof handed into the National Treasury, in accordance with the laws of 1861 —Bulletin.

The Difference —The Sacramento Union says

Andrew Johnson never makes a speech without a parade of the personal pronoun I, speaking of the sacrifices he has made, the services he has rendered, and the great things he is about to accomplish If any one were to place confidence in his declarations and speeches, he would come to the conclusion that there was only one public man of any account in the United States, and that man was Andy Johnson He is never found wasting any words on the heroes of the war, not he. Grant, Sherman and Sheridan may have done something of considerable note in the dark hours of the rebellion, but nothing is heard about them from Andy Johnson. The latter individual is the theme and burden of his political songs altogether; other public men are secondary characters altogether in his estimation How different in bearing and speech is General Grant, who, when praised for his ability and that of his officers in bringing the war to its termination, remarked.

It was the men in the ranks who ended the war all we could do was to bring them in contact with the enemy It was the weight of their patriotism, their character, their spirit and subordination and self sacrifice which turned the scale They must in the end have succeeded had we never been born

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs, brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

LEFFEL'S

American Double Turbine Water Wheel

IS NOW MANUFACTURED BY THE OREGON IRON Works, in the city of Portland, and orders for the same can be filled immediately We have a small supply of the different sizes from 10 inches to 48 inches in diameter That we may know the proper sized wheel you require, measure your water in the following way Take the width of the stream, the average depth, and the distance it flows in a minute

All the wheels now in use give universal satisfaction. Both the construction of the wheel and its performance, commend it to the better judgment of all minds capable of appreciating the highest development of mechanical construction. Therefore it has conquered the most violent opposition

This wheel is especially adapted to mining purposes. It is light, and can be easily packed into the mountains. Wheels weighing from 100 to 300 pounds will yield from 10 to 40 horse power, under a head of 20 to 50 feet They are the cheapest wheel to set up known, as they are so arranged as to produce the greatest power possible from the water used

The prices of these wheels have now been reduced to the ability of all Come and see them or send for a circular to LEFFEL & MYERS,

DR. CHAS. H. TOZER'S

PRIVATE MEDICAL INSTITUTE,

N. E. Cor. Jackson and Kearney Sts.,

SAN FRANCISCO

THE GREAT ERADICATOR OF SPECIAL COMPLAINTS FORMERLY OF LOCKE HOSPITAL, LONDON, EIGHT YEARS IN SACRAMENTO, AND THE LAST THREE YEARS IN SAN FRANCISCO

DR. TOZER'S

Experience is of forty years standing, and during that time has met with unparalleled success in the treatment of all those diseases generally known as Venereal or Chronic.

It is impossible here to mention all the diseases with which he is familiar, some, perhaps, will not be out of place. The most formidable, the most destructive to mankind is Self-Abuse. The brain being the seat of the disease the whole system suffers in consequence I will here enumerate some of the symptoms, so that those afflicted may be able to form an opinion in regard to their complaints, and seek advice in time, thereby saving themselves a world of suffering Nervous Debility, Loss of Memory, Pain in the Limbs and Back, Palpitation of the Heart, Trembling of the Limbs, Headache, and an Aversion to Genial Society, especially that of Females. There are a great many more, but these are [illegible] and should you be suffering from any of them, call on DR. TOZER, and he will cure you in a short time, without any interruption in your business—or state your case by letter, and there will be no occasion for your calling at the office.

Stricture of the Urethra

Is another formidable enemy to health. Send for one of my circulars on that disease, and inform yourself of its terrible results. The worst cases cured in a few days.

Venereal Diseases

In all their various forms, either Primary, Secondary or Hereditary, completely eradicated from the system. Your constitution being restored to perfect health, there will be no danger of handing down to your children that terrible disease known as Scrofula.

Syphilitic Disease

As it presents itself on this coast, is of a more formidable character than that seen in the Atlantic States or Europe, arising from the fact of its being a compound of Spanish, Chinese and Sandwich Island disease These of you who have visited the two latter countries no doubt have seen the dreadful effects of it on both the native and foreign population. It requires altogether different mode of treatment.

The Old Formulas

Of Ricord, Acton and Bostwick are of little account, except to dry up the disease on the surface, leaving the poison in the blood, which, sooner or later, will show itself as a secondary disease in an [illegible] form. These facts I have learned by experience [illegible] that I may say without boasting that I have [illegible] these diseases than any other physician [illegible] dating as it does from 1840. Diseases Peculiar to Females,

Such as Retention, Painful Menstruation, etc. etc., have been my study for a great number of years, and I can safely promise a perfect cure in a short time.

Be not deterred from calling on Dr. TOZER from delicacy or a fear of exposure, as the Doctor is a man in whom you can trust, and all cases are treated with the strictest secrecy.
